Call for participants in the Google Summer of Code for Debian

Tue 25 February 2014 by Nicolas Dandrimont with tags announce gsoc

The Google Summer of Code is a program that allows post-secondary students aged 18 and older to earn a stipend writing code for Free and Open Source Software projects during the summer.

Debian has just been accepted as a mentoring organization for this year's program! We're looking for students and mentors to make this GSoC in Debian the best ever!
